JCA Choreography

Chicago, Illinois

Miss Jessica Started her love for Showchoir in High School where she was a part of the Mt. Zion 'Swingsations'. Afterward, she spent the next seven years studying dance, teaching dance, and choreographing. She has received her B.A. in Dance Choreography from Columbia College Chicago. She has choreographed such Musicals as; 'Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat', 'The Wiz', 'Beauty and the Beast', 'Cinderella Jr.' and more. Miss Jessica also choreographs showchoirs all over the Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin area. Which have won numerous awards including 'Best Choreography' in 2008. Currently she is working at the Academy of Music and Art where she started and developed their Dance Program. Miss Jessica has also started 'The Dance Company' at the Academy which will be competing around Illinois this Spring.

Miss Jessica uses Traditional Showchoir ideas and design with a modern flare. Using the theories and ideas taught to her by multiple Choreographers, teachers and mentors, including; Dwight Jordan, Kirby Reed, Gesel Mason, Pam McNeil, and Dardie McGinley-Gallivan, Jessica looks at Choreography as a complete picture as opposed to just the 'movement'. By taking traditional choreography, adding a twist influenced by urban hip hop and jazz, Miss Jessica's choreography is always original, eye-catching, and memorable.
